Key Risk Factors

Investments in Funds involve numerous risks including, among others, interest rate risks, credit risks, high yield bond risks and liquidity risks, which are not adequately captured by the synthetic risk indicator and may negatively impact their value. The Fund may be exposed to the following risks: Interest rate risk: A rise in interest rates generally causes bond prices to fall, Credit risk: The risk that an issuer of a security held in the fund does not meet its obligations to the fund, High yield bond risk: High yield bonds (normally lower rated) generally carry greater market, credit and liquidity risks, Liquidity risk: In difficult market conditions, the fund may not be able to sell a security for full value or at all. This could affect performance and potentially causing the fund to defer or suspend redemptions of its units, Counterparty risk: Is the risk associated with a counterparty's ability to discharge its obligations in a financial transaction, such as payment, delivery, and settlement. Complete and detailed information on the risks entailed by investing in the Fund can be found in the KIID and the prospectus of the Fund (available on MFO website, <https://mfoasset.com/>).
